CHIEF EXECUTIVE PROGRAMME

Programme Overview

In today's erratic, complex and rapidly evolving environment, any organisation seeking to thrive must be led by a future-focused and agile Chief Executive Officer. This will require advanced leadership skills, revolutionary strategies to tackle disruptions, transforming customer experiences and building sustainable competitive advantage.

Just as the business context continues to evolve, the approach to leadership development must equally mirror this evolution. This will be driven by people leadership practices that influence CEOs to be visionary with the willingness for continuous learning and unlearning. A significant proportion of learning on this programme will come out of peer-stimulated learning, sharing of experiences, and stress-testing each other's ideas.

Challenge

Innovate

In an increasingly uncertain global environment, the Chief Executive Programme is designed to enable CEOs and Managing Directors explore ground-breaking multidisciplinary approaches to solving complex business issues. The Programme offers a dynamic learning experience and community of experienced peers with diverse perspectives.

The multi-module programme will enable participants to:

- Anticipate risks outside formal functional boundaries and turn them into opportunities for growth.
- Go beyond problem solving skills to using design-thinking to build ecosystems that harnesses available diverse cross-functional insights.
- Leverage numerous inherent paradox situations to build on existing and create new value streams thereby ensuring resilience and agility.
- Collapse silos and get people amplifying their impact as they ignite each other's success.
- Create effective high-performance work environments during a change phase to build a sustainable legacy.
